State Street in St. Ignace is lined with banners marking the 50th anniversary of the Mackinac Bridge. The banners will decorate the town through the summer.

tall puppets, tribal members in ceremonial regalia, horse-drawn carriages, marching bands, floats, high wheel bicycle riders, Miss Michigan and the National Cherry Queen, and 50 years of cars will take place in St. Ignace and Mackinaw City Saturday. In the evening, fireworks will be fired into the air over the Straits from both St. Ignace and Mackinaw City.

Also taking place Saturday at Bridge View Park in St. Ignace will be ironworker demonstrations, an oral history booth, music, and birthday cakes. Local service groups will have food booths and amateur radio operators will broadcast the event around the world. On display will be a 100-foot replica of the bridge made from Erector sets.

Other events are planned in St. Ignace for the celebration, including a tour of the U.S. Coast Guard lifeboat, a Fish Feast, beer tent, and family events.

Mackinaw City and Mackinac Island also are participating. The Clydesdales will be on the Island Thursday, July 26, and garden tours will be offered.

In addition to the parade and fireworks in Mackinaw City, evening musical entertainment will be offered at Conkling Park.

An honorary celebration committee was established, consisting of Prentiss M. Brown Jr., Charles T. Fisher III, Lawrence A. Rubin, and William Cochran.

A nonprofit organization was set up to manage the Mackinac Bridge 50th celebration. No state funds or toll revenues are being used for the event, said Ms. Brown.

The anniversary event is supported by volunteer hours, individual gifts, and corporate sponsors, including the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians, DTE Energy of Detroit, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, Delta Dental of Michigan, Grand Hotel, Arnold Transit Company, Miller Canfield, Paddock and Stone, Michigan Building and Construction Trades, Michigan Laborers-Employees Cooperative Education Trust Fund, Michigan Regional Council of Carpenters, International Union of Operating Engineers, and American Bridge.
